PROFILE

Hi! I'm Alex. I'm currently a junior at NYU's Gallatin School of Individualized Study where I'm pursuing an individualized major in "Visual Storytelling and Deconstructing Narratives." My major centers around design, art history, and marketing, specifically the ways to best visually communicate ideas and narratives. Outside of school, I have professional experience in design, visual editing, curation, and making creative content. In my free time, I'm usually found doodling in my sketchbook, drawing comics, and working on my UI/UX skills.
