Experience

NYU GALLATIN – Graphic Designer and Teaching Assistant (9/2017 – Present)

Designer of the 16th volume of The Literacy Review. The journal is set for publication in May 2018 and I am responsible for designing the entire issue and its marketing content. I also am the Teaching Assistant for the class, Creating a Magazine: A Multimedia Approach, for the Spring 2018 semester. During the lab section, I teach students design tools and concepts to help them create their semester-long magazine projects.

AMINO APPS – Design Intern (1/2017 – 8/2017, 2/2018 – Present)

As a design intern at Amino, I had the opportunity to tackle a variety of projects. I was responsible for spearheading the visual rebrand of Amino's Instagram, which grew its following from 400K+ to 700K+ in three months. Additionally, I created branding for "Amino VIP" and worked with my supervisor to push for a cohesive visual identity across all Amino platforms. I designed and illustrated hundreds of icons, screenshots, and feature graphics for Amino's standalone apps, and also helped design ad campaigns, graphics, animations, deck templates, mobile wireframes, and photo-edit user content.

VISIT.ORG – Visual Editor Intern (2/2016 – 6/2016)

Responsible for curating, photo-editing, and adding images to WordPress to promote Visit.org's organizations. I also assisted with designing decks and organizing Visit.org's image library.

SCHOLASTIC – Art Department Administrative Assistant (2/2015 – 6/2015)

Ensured efficient office organization through invoice and record-keeping, editing contracts, and ordering product samples from Scholastic's warehouse. I also assisted the art department with image and photo research, assembling prototypes, and creating "child-like" drawings and handwriting for products.

THE METROPOLITAN MUSEUM OF ART – Digital Media Intern (7/2013 – 8/2013)

I edited thumbnail images for the museum's new audio guide interface, and verified and organized content from 10+ audio guide tours with 100+ tour stops. At the end of the programs, the interns were divided into groups and each intern was responsible for creating and leading a gallery discussion.
